The boy came here yesterday and told Mayor Walters that Stephano had eloped with his mother from Freeport, Illinois. The father is a cobbler at Freeport. He showed a letter signed by the mayor of Freeport, stating the latter had ordered Stephano to leave town. Mrs. Boneditto is in the custody of the police here.

Mrs. Lesh Not Guilty.
Sedalia, Mo., Nov. 27.—The jury today returned a verdict of "not guilty" in the case of Mrs. Panay Lesh, charged with the murder of Mrs. Elizabeth Quance of Green Ridge, Mo. Judge Shain instructed the jury to acquit the woman on the ground the confession she had made was not backed by corroborative evidence.

Mrs. Lesh, in tears, thanked the judge, jurors and attorneys. She will leave today for Jacksonville, Illinois, for a short visit with relatives and then will return to Los Angeles to attempt to gain possession of her two-year-old son. The remaining charge of first degree murder in connection with the death of Mrs. Coe was dismissed.

Etnyre Case to Jury Today.
Chicago, Nov. 27.—Closing arguments were made today in the trial of Isaac Etnyre, charged with murdering his wife. The case is expected to go to the jury today. Etnyre was pictured to the jury by the prosecuting attorney as a man who dragged down his wife's name and thereafter murdered her in cold blood. He ridiculed the testimony of Etnyre who declared he accidentally shot his wife when he found her embracing Corporal Rayford Barlow, a soldier of Fort Sheridan. The defendant asserted his wife stepped between him and Barlow when he attempted to kill the soldier.

Tortured Into Confessions.

Seoul, Korea, Nov. 27.—The salient feature of today's sitting of the court trying 106 Korean prisoners, charged with conspiring in 1910 and 1911 against the life of Count Terauchi, was the wholesale retraction by Kim-bun of the evidence he had given. In explanation he said he was insane at the last trial and had been driven to make statements by the treatment of the police. Six other prisoners also retracted confessions made before, and asserted they were tortured by the police.

CONGRESS FACES STRENUOUS TIME

Short Session Beginning Monday

Will Be Crowded With Work

TO AMEND THE SHERMAN LAW

Senate Will Deal First With the Archbold Trial

Washington, Nov. 27.—Congress will reconvene a week from tomorrow for the last short session of Republican control in national legislation. Discussion has been active among those early on the scene over plans for the winter's work, and the prospects for the special tariff session next spring, when all branches of the government pass into the hands of the Democrats. While the vexing question of the tariff is not scheduled for consideration this winter, the three months of the short session will be crowded with legislative work. In addition to the annual list of appropriation bills, congress will be forced to dispose of a quantity of general and special legislative matter left pending with the adjournment of the long session in August.

During the early part of the session the house will be busy shaping appropriation bills, while the senate is disposing of the impeachment trial of Judge Robert W. Archbold of the commerce court set to begin December 2.

Important Bills in Senate.

Several important measures will be pushed for early action in the senate, among them the resolution of Senator Works of California to limit the president to a single six-year term; the Shepard-Kenyon bill prohibiting the shipment of liquor into prohibition states; and the vocational education bill of Senator Page of Vermont. The bill of Senator Borah creating a department of labor is also scheduled for early consideration.

The department of labor bill has passed the house, but that body would still have to act upon the vocational education bill and the six-year presidential term measure if they passed the senate.

Hope to Amend Sherman Law.

Energetic efforts will be made in both houses to secure legislation amending the Sherman anti-trust law, and limiting contributions to political campaign funds. The house judiciary committee is under instructions by resolution to conduct an investigation into violations of the Sherman law with a view to preparing legislation, and it is preparing to begin the investigation immediately after congress convenes.

Senator Kenyon's bill amending the Sherman law, which has been before the senate interstate commerce committee, will undoubtedly be brought up for early action in the senate.

Meantime the committee headed by Senator Clapp will probably formulate a measure limiting campaign contributions, based upon its extensive investigations. Several bills on this subject are pending in both house and senate.

Efforts will be made during the session to repeal at least a part of the Canadian reciprocity tariff agreement. The attempt failed last summer, when the repeal was attached to various democratic tariff bills. The failure of Canada to ratify the agreement left only the clause relating to wood pulp and print paper in operation.

Expect No Currency Legislation.

Congressmen now in Washington do not expect any action on currency legislation during the short session. The house committee on banking and currency will proceed with its investigation of the currency and credit situation with considerable difficulty, and it may be unable to conclude its investigation early enough to submit any remedial measures before March 4.

COUNCIL IS CHARITABLE.

The Calumet Associated Charities recently made an appeal to the Red Jacket council for assistance in dealing with the case of a woman, who though afflicted with tuberculosis in an incipient stage, refused to be isolated from her four children. She has been unable to provide clothing or food for them and it was for help in this direction the Association appealed to the council. Although unable to take official action, the trustees, as individuals, raised a sum of money to be used for relief.

PREPARING FOR TOMORROW

WILL RE-SUBMIT SUFFRAGE ISSUE

BELIEVED LEGISLATURE CAN BE INDUCED TO ACT FOR SPRING ELECTION.

Lansing, Mich., Nov. 27.—The manner of protest by women, if the final verdict shows the defeat of woman suffrage will be decided upon today at a conference here.

Rev. Dr. W. V. of Grand Rapids, campaign adviser of the women, will attend the conference, together with other men who took a leading part in the fight to give the ballot to the women of Michigan. Many of the women leaders of the cause also will be present and decide on the steps to be taken.

"I have no doubt but that the legislature will re-submit the question of suffrage for women at the spring election, if the final figures show that it has been defeated," said Senator-elect Robert V. ORR.

"Defeat for the amendment at this time would result in making it the most popular of measures by next spring. It showed such surprising strength that it would be certain to win, I believe, on re-submission."

"I had a talk this morning with Representative Charles Flowers, who practically had charge of the matter of submitting the amendment when the question came up in the special session last spring and he is ready to bring it up in the house for submission again as soon as the legislature meets the first of the year."

"I voted for the submission of suffrage in the house and will do so again in the senate. I believe that re-submission will have the solid support of the Wayne county delegation and I see no reason under existing circumstances why every member of the legislature should not be more than willing to have the matter voted upon again."

PREMONITION SAVES LIVES.

Woman's Strange Impulse Results in Discovery of Fire.

Minneapolis, Minn., Nov. 27.—Mrs. Rebecca Hauptstein's premonition that something was wrong in the neighborhood, which caused her to rise at 3 a. m. and look out of the window of her home, 710 Lyndale avenue N., saved the lives of fifteen persons who were asleep in a burning duplex at 711 Lyndale avenue N.

When Mrs. Hauptstein looked out, the roof of the house was blazing. She dressed hurriedly, rushed across the street and aroused Mr. and Mrs. A. Aitken on the first floor, who left the house with their four children, ranging in age from 9 months to 6 years. Mrs. Hauptstein also aroused Mr. and Mrs. Coram, on the second floor, and nine persons who board and room there. All left the house in night clothes.

The fire was confined to the attic and was extinguished after it had damaged the building to the extent of $500.

MARY GURKMAN SET FREE.

Mary Gurkman, charged with the larceny of the sum of $240 from Mike Rozenich, appeared before Justice Fisher yesterday. For reasons which appeared to be good and sufficient, the justice dismissed the case when an agreement was reached as to terms of settlement between the plaintiff and defendant.

W. H. Osgood of Field museum, Chicago, is back from Peru with 2,000 specimens of fauna for the institution.

TO INVITE NAVIES OF MANY NATIONS

SENATOR CUMMINS OF IOWA SPECTACULAR OPENING OF PANAMA CANAL.

Des Moines, Ia., Nov. 27.—Senator A. B. Cummins has ambitious plans for a fitting celebration of the completion of the Panama canal and will accordingly introduce a bill early this winter for a great naval parade in San Francisco via the New Isthmian waterway. Discussing his proposed bill, Senator Cummins said:

"I have had some part in legislation affecting the exposition at San Francisco, and my plans have been evolved from the study I have made of 1915 is not the exposition to be held in San Francisco. That exposition will represent the aggressiveness of one of our great Pacific coast cities. But the canal is not a San Francisco achievement. Frisco is 1,600 miles farther from the canal than we are. The canal has no closer relations to San Francisco than to New York or New Orleans or San Diego. The exposition is an incident of the big event of 1915, which is the completion by this government of the greatest engineering feat of all time. It is my thought to let the world know what this new western country has accomplished."

"I believe that the government should have charge of this celebration and my plan is to organize a fleet made up of our warships and of visiting warships from every country on the globe. The invitation should go direct from our government to every foreign government, and we should invite merchant vessels and passenger steamships to accompany the party. The whole fleet would be conveyed by American warships."

"The whole fleet would be conveyed by American warships."

MEMBERS OF "DYNAMITE CREW" HAD MANY QUARRELS

Indianapolis, Ind., Nov. 27.—The suggestions that McManigal in his blowing-up jobs about the country was actually in the employ of the detectives who followed him were set up by the defense in the "dynamite" trial today. Senator Kern for the defense flatly asked McManigal whether he while dynamiting was not in the employ of the National Erectors' Association whose "open shop" policy was being opposed by the Iron Workers.

McManigal denied he was employed by any other than J. J. McNamara or that he acted as a "spy" in the ranks of the "dynamiters." Kern drew from McManigal the admission that he was indifferent as to whether he was arrested or not following the Times explosion.

"Officials of the union had double crossed me. J. B. McNamara tried to kill me and I knew after the Los Angeles explosion I would be caught. I told J. J. McNamara, I guessed I'd get a job from the Erectors' Association. He replied you do that and see how long you last."

McManigal told of various quarrels between himself, Hockin and the McNamaras which threatened to disrupt the "dynamiting crew," but all "hung together," each fearing betrayal by the others.

The district attorney served notice on twelve of the defendants, including President Ryan and Vice President Butler of the Iron Workers union, that he was advised their bonds had been indemnified and if true he would ask the court to set aside the bonds and

Speaker Clark's Turkey.

Washington, Nov. 27.—Speaker Clark and family today deplored the degeneracy of the good old kitchen range in which our mothers cooked the Thanksgiving turkey.

"South Trimble, clerk of the House," said Clark, "gave me a fine turkey. It was a noble bird of magnificent proportions. When I got it home I discovered our cook stove was too small to fit the bird. So we can't roast the turkey."

After a family conference, and after several statesmen had been consulted, the Clark turkey was lugged to the capitol, and turned over to the chef of the House of Representatives' restaurant who will roast it tomorrow in the big oven. Browned and stuffed it will be sent by automobile to the speaker's home for the Thanksgiving dinner.

ask for new ones. The attorneys for the defendants said if new bonds were required today they would be unable to procure them and the defendants would have to be taken into custody.

TO SETTLE ALL ISSUES TOGETHER

Austria-Hungary's Agreement to Balkan Plan Is Likely to Prevent War

PEACE PROSPECTS BRIGHTER

Reserves Are Still Being Called Out, But Clash Is Not Now
Expected

AMERICANS IN TURKEY SAFE

London, Nov. 27.—Belief that Great Britain, France and Germany will succeed in averting the threatened European war has been strengthened in the last twenty-four hours. It is now asserted that Austria-Hungary is prepared to agree to questions concerning the future of Albania and the desire of Serbia for a part on the Adriatic sea being settled in connection with all the other issues of the Balkan war as recently proposed by Premier Asquith. If this change of Austria-Hungary's attitude be confirmed the dangerous pressure at present will be removed.

The stumbling blocks in the way of agreement by the envoys of Turkey and Bulgaria in discussing peace in a pact or near the Tchetachia line remain very real. The Turks appear to show little disposition to submit to onerous terms. Negotiations likely will continue for several days. The report is circulating again in Sofia that Turkey desires to enter the Balkan confederation. It is asserted she already has made certain advances in this direction in the way of proposals to the allied Balkan states.

HIS 70TH BIRTHDAY.

Second Assistant Secretary of State
Adee is Congratulated.

Washington, D. C., Nov. 27.—A large bouquet of roses this morning adorned the desk of Second Assistant Secretary Alvey A. Adee, a reminder from the bureau chiefs of the state department that this was his seventieth birthday anniversary. Mr. Adee was born at Astoria, N. Y., in 1842. In 1870 he was appointed secretary of legation at Madrid, and for forty-two years he has been in continuous service in the diplomatic branch of the government, mostly in high station. He became a clerk in the state department in 1877; chief of the diplomatic bureau in 1878, third assistant Secretary of State in 1882, and second assistant secretary in 1886. No American diplomatist of the present day is so extensively known in his field of activities as is Mr. Adee, and few of the diplomatic notes issued from the state department during the last quarter of a century have failed to receive his careful editing and emendation.

SALE OF DALY COLLECTION.

New York, Nov. 27.—Stage celebrities and art collectors in about equal numbers thronged Anderson's Gallery this afternoon at the opening of the auction sale of the Augustin Daly collection of portraits of eminent actors and actresses. The gem of the collection is Sir Joshua Reynolds' portrait of David Garrick.
